In Inside the Situation Room, former Secretary of State Hillary Rodham Clinton and Dr. Keren Yarhi-Milo bring together leading scholars and experienced foreign policy practitioners to discuss how decisions with geopolitical consequences are actually made. Together, their research and experience shed a new light on what really matters in times of crisis, from psychology and emotion to trust and diplomacy to public opinion and the evolving role of technology. This book will serve as the first step toward a new standard engagement: more active, iterative collaboration among two communities—scholars and practitioners—who have a great deal to contribute and learn from one another.
