

European naval power

Type de contenu : Texte

Type de médiation : sans médiation

Type de support : Volume

Titre(s) : European naval power : from Cold War to hybrid wars / Jeremy Stöhs

Auteur(s) : Stöhs, Jeremy

Publication : Cham : Palgrave Macmillan

Date de copyright : C 2024

Description matérielle : 1 vol. (XXVIII-478 p.) : ill., carte ; 22 cm

Collection : Palgrave studies in maritime politics and security 2730-7972

ISBN : 3-031-47875-4
978-3-0314-7875-8

EAN : 9783031478758 rel.

Appartient à la collection : Palgrave studies in maritime politics and security 2730-7972

Classification décimale Dewey : 359.009 4

Note sur la responsabilité : Dr. Jeremy Stöhs is a security and defense analyst, the Deputy Director of the Austrian Center for Intelligence, Propaganda & Security Studies (ACIPSS), and a Fellow at the Institute for Security Policy at Kiel University (ISPK).

Note sur les bibliographies et les index : Bibliogr. en fin de chapitres. Notes bibliogr. Index

Note de thèses et écrits académiques : Texte remanié de Doctoral thesis War studies Christian Albrecht University of Kiel 2019 The Evolution of European naval power, 1989-2019 : strategy, force structure, operations

Résumé ou extrait : This book charts new waters in the study of European naval power. It explores the evolution of Europe's navies from the final days of the Cold War to a period of hybrid wars and renewed strategic competition, manifest in Russia's invasion of Ukraine and China's increasingly aggressive behavior in the Asia-Pacific Region. The author highlights how inconsistencies and shortsighted naval policies have led to dangerous capability shortfalls and offers several recommendations for navies to navigate successfully the future maritime environment.

Sujet - Nom commun : Marines de guerre -- Europe -- Histoire

Puissance maritime -- Europe -- Histoire

Histoire navale -- Europe