

On posthuman war

Type de contenu : Texte

Type de médiation : sans médiation

Type de support : Volume

Titre(s) : On posthuman war : computation and military violence / Mike Hill

Auteur(s) : Hill, Mike (1964-....)

Publication : Minneapolis (Minn.) London : University of Minnesota press

Date de copyright : C 2022

Description matérielle : 1 vol. (XXII-236 p.) ; 22 cm

ISBN : 978-0-8166-6089-6

0-8166-6089-1

978-0-8166-6090-2

0-8166-6090-5

1-4529-6744-X

978-1-4529-6744-8

EAN : 9780816660902 br.

Classification décimale Dewey : 355.802 85

Note sur les bibliographies et les index : Notes bibliogr. ndex

Note sur le contenu : Introduction: number rules The terrorist recognition handbook Cybernetics and netcentric war The lords of things as they are Realism and posthuman war System-of-systems War demography The revolution in military affairs U.S. Census politics and the coming white minority The graveyard of the human race Race war The algorithmic unconscious War anthropology The human terrain system program Data as physical transmission National character study in World War II Counterinsurgency theory and Vietnam Quantum systems and asymmetrical war White Afghans War neuroscience The functional combatant Living matter Cartography and virtual reality The human brain as image generator Opto-electronics Virtuality and war White matter

Résumé ou extrait : "Mike Hill delivers insights on the latest war technologies, strategies, and tactics while engaging in questions poised to overturn the foundations of modern political thought. Beginning with his personal experience training U.S. Marine recruits, he gleans insights from realist philosophy, the new materialism, and computational theory to show how the human being has been reconstituted from neutral citizen to unwitting combatant." (éd.)

Sujet - Nom commun : Intelligence artificielle -- Applications militaires
Art et science militaires -- Innovations technologiques -- États-Unis
Guerre -- Philosophie