

Blockade and sea power

Type de contenu : Texte

Type de médiation : sans médiation

Type de support : Volume

Titre(s) : Blockade and sea power : the blockade, 1914-1919, and its significance for a world state / by Maurice Parmelee,...

Auteur(s) : Parmelee, Maurice (1882-1969)

Publication : New York (N.Y.) : Thomas Y. Crowell

Date de copyright : C 1924

Description matérielle : 1 vol. (X-449 p.) : tabl. ; 21 cm

Autre variante du titre : [World state.]

Classification décimale Dewey : 940.452

Note sur les bibliographies et les index : Notes bibliogr. Index

Note sur le contenu : Part I: History of the blockade, 1914-1919 Warfare by economic measures and Neutral rights The law of blockade and the declaration of London Expansion of the blockade by the Belligerents Neutral United States and the Blockade Belligerent pressure upon neutral Countries The British blockade organization American regulation of war trade The Allied blockade administration Neutral regulation of trade, 1914-1919 Allied agreements with neutral Countries The relaxation and termination of the blockade The effects of the allied blockade The military success of the allied Blockade Part II: Sea power and the world state Ethical dualism in wartime Sea power and imperialism The freedom of the sea The balance of power and economic Imperialism The essential features of a world State The league of the entente allies The coercive measures of the World state Conclusion Appendix I. The declaration of London Concerning the laws of naval warfare Appendix II. British note respecting the Withdrawal of the declaration of London Orders in council Appendix III. British statement of the Measures adopted to intercept the seaborne Commerce of Germany Appendix IV. Chart of the Allied blockade Administration in London Appendix V. Statistics of imports into Scandinavia and Holland in 1916 and 1917 Appendix VI. The German treaty of Brest-Litovsk

Sujet - Nom commun : Puissance maritime

Droit international

Relations internationales

Guerre mondiale (1914-1918) -- Blocus