

Scars of war

Type de contenu : Texte

Type de médiation : sans médiation

Type de support : Volume

Titre(s) : Scars of war : migration, security and sustainable future / edited by Maria Anita Stefanelli,... and Izabela Skórzyńska,...

Autre(s) responsabilité(s) : Stefanelli, Maria Anita (Éditeur scientifique)
Skórzyńska, Izabela (Éditeur scientifique)

Publication : Leeds [etc.] : Emerald publishing, 2025

Description matérielle : 1 volume (XVIII-183 pages) : illustrations, graphiques, tableaux ; 24 cm

Collection : Research in political sociology 0895-9935 vol. 30

ISBN : 1-83608-509-5
978-1-8360-8509-6

EAN : 9781836085096 relié

Appartient à la collection : Research in political sociology 0895-9935 30

Classification décimale Dewey : 355.008 2

Note sur les bibliographies et les index : Bibliographie et notes bibliographiques en fins de chapitres

Résumé ou extrait : "Echoing the sentiments expressed in pivotal UN resolutions and positions which emphasize the inherently destructive nature of warfare on sustainable development, the chapters focus on the importance of adhering to international legal frameworks for safeguarding the environment during armed conflicts. recognizing the pervasiveramifications of warfare across diverse sociocultural contexts, this volume convenes scholarly insights from three continents - Europe, the Americas, and Asia - to elucidate the far-reaching implications of conflict on environmental sustainability and harmonious cohabitation among nations. Beyond this, contributors underscore the indispensable role of women in environmental management and development and emphasize their full participation in developmental efforts even amid wartime conditions as crucial for fostering international peace and security. Through a shared emphasis on the transformative power of education, this volume collectively underscores the urgent need to address the severe and enduring consequences of warfare on global ecosystems and collective well-being." (4e de couverture)

Sujet - Nom commun : Guerre -- Environnement

Guerre et société

Femmes et guerre

Femmes et paix

Politique et guerre