

A Treatise on the process employed by nature in suppressing the hemorrhage from divided and punctured arteries; and on the use of the ligature : concluding with observations on secondary hemorrhage ; the whole deduced from an extensive series of experiments, and illustrated by fifteen plates By J. F. D. Jones...

Titre(s) : A Treatise on the process employed by nature in suppressing the hemorrhage from divided and punctured arteries; and on the use of the ligature : concluding with observations on secondary hemorrhage ; the whole deduced from an extensive series of experiments, and illustrated by fifteen plates By J. F. D. Jones...

Auteur(s) : Jones, John Frederick D.

Editeur, producteur : London : Phillips, 1805

Description matérielle : XV-237 p. : XV pl., ill. ; in-8