

Small states in the international system

Type de contenu : Texte

Type de médiation : sans médiation

Type de support : Volume

Titre(s) : Small states in the international system : Caribbean foreign policies toward China and Japan / Kavita Johnson

Auteur(s) : Johnson, Kavita (19.-.....)

Publication : Cham : Palgrave Macmillan

Date de copyright : C 2024

Description matérielle : 1 vol. (XV-151 p.) : ill., graph., tabl. ; 22 cm

Collection : Global foreign policy studies

ISBN : 3-031-60937-9

978-3-0316-0937-4

EAN : 9783031609374 rel.

Appartient à la collection : Global foreign policy studies (Print) 2731-7536

Classification décimale Dewey : 327.729 05

Note sur les bibliographies et les index : Bibliogr. en fin de chapitres. Notes bibliogr. Index

Note sur le contenu : Intro Acknowledgements Contents List of Figures List of Tables 1: Introduction The Caribbean's Economic Predicament in the New Millennium Overview Caribbean Relations with China and Japan since the 2000s Caribbean-China Relations CARICOM-Japan Relations Small State Foreign Policy and The Levels of Analysis Framework Structure of Book References 2: Caribbean States in Changing International Relations The Foreign Policies of Caribbean States Since the 1960s Non-alignment and Third World Activism Preferential Treatment: Lomé Conventions Regional Integration US Influence: Caribbean Basin Initiative (CBI) Engagement with Latin American Powers Changes in Preferential Treatment and Current Economic Climate in the Caribbean: from the 1990s Onwards The Westminster System, Domestic Interests and Foreign Policy Decision-Making Caribbean Interest in "Non-Western" Powers References 3: China and Japan in the Developing World: Growing Interest in Caribbean States China's Use of Soft Power "Soft Use of Power" Approach Japan's Official Development Assistance Renewal of Japan's Diplomacy Similarities and Differences in Chinese and Japanese Foreign Policy

Behaviour China and Japan's Interest in the Caribbean References 4: Jamaica's Relations with China and Japan Overview of Jamaica's Foreign Policy and Ideology Since Independence Jamaica-China Relations Trade and Investments Interest in Bauxite Tax Incentives Infrastructural Projects: White Elephants, Highways, and Land Gifting Consistent "One China Policy" and Support in International Fora J-J Partnership: Jamaica-Japan Relations Trade and Investments Blue Mountain Coffee Interest in Energy and Bauxite Cooperation in International Fora Assessment References 5: Grenada's Relations with China and Japan Grenada's Economic and Political History Grenada-China Relations Battle for Recognition: China or Taiwan? Chinese Imported Labour Case of Dominica No More "Flip-Flopping": Case of St. Lucia Grenada-Japan Relations Membership in the IWC and Voting Assessment References 6: Conclusion Opportunities and Challenges for Caribbean States Why Caribbean States? Leveraging Sovereignty? An Outlook on Caribbean Foreign Policy References Index

Note de thèses et écrits académiques : Texte remanié de Doctoral thesis Political science University of Tsukuba (Japon) 2015

Résumé ou extrait : Small States in the International System: Caribbean Foreign Policies toward China and Japan provides a comparative analysis of the Caribbean regions engagement with two Asian-Pacific powers China and Japan. It explores the reorientation of the Caribbeans foreign policy direction from traditional partners in the Western hemisphere through an assessment of the case studies of Jamaica and Grenada. The author highlights the contemporary features of the international system that provide both opportunities and challenges for Caribbean states in their bilateral relations. This engagement is evaluated within the framework of the strategic global interests of China and Japan.

Sujet - Nom commun : Relations extérieures -- Région caraïbe -- Chine
Relations extérieures -- Région caraïbe -- Japon