

Subversion

Type de contenu : Texte

Type de médiation : sans médiation

Type de support : Volume

Titre(s) : Subversion : the strategic weaponization of narratives / Andreas Krieg

Auteur(s) : Krieg, Andreas

Publication : Washington, D.C. : Georgetown University press

Date de copyright : C 2023

Description matérielle : 1 vol. (X-241 p.) : 1 ill. ; 23 cm

ISBN : 978-1-64712-335-2

1-64712-335-6

978-1-64712-336-9

1-64712-336-4

EAN : 9781647123369 br.

Classification décimale Dewey : 355.343

Note sur les bibliographies et les index : Bibliogr. p. 205-232. Notes bibliogr. Index

Note sur le contenu : The Sociopsychology of Truth Challenging the Gatekeepers of Truth Subversion and the Contest of Wills Digital Authoritarians and the Exploitation of Liberation Technology Subversion and Russia's Concept of War in the Twenty-First Century Little Sparta's Counterrevolution, or How the United Arab Emirates Weaponizes Narratives Toward Information Resilience

Résumé ou extrait : "Andreas Krieg examines how state and nonstate actors weaponize narratives in the information space to subvert a target audience or government. One of the most important contributions of the work is his argument that these subversive information operations can achieve strategic, not just tactical effects, through a six-stage process. Subversive information operations rely on networks consisting of a range of virtual, human, and organizational surrogates who help a patron to spread its narratives to subvert the target. This type of subversion is aimed at undermining a community's trust in authority, most notably those established authorities that produce, vet, and disseminate information and knowledge. The subversion of trust between community and authority may eventually threaten sociopolitical cohesion and can mobilize unrest both in the virtual and physical space. After a conceptual discussion, Krieg closely examines subversion campaigns by two states in particular, Russia and the United Arab Emirates (UAE). Krieg concludes by offering recommendations about how vulnerable states and communities can become more resilient." (éd.)

Sujet - Nom commun : Guerre de l'information

Narration

Activités subversives