

Composite warfare

Type de contenu : Texte

Type de médiation : sans médiation

Type de support : Volume

Titre(s) : Composite warfare : the conduct of successful ground force operations in Africa / Eben Barlow

Auteur(s) : Barlow, Eben

Publication : Pinetown : 30° South publishers, 2016

Description matérielle : 1 vol. (535 pages-[32] pages de pl.) : ill. ; 24 cm

ISBN : 1-928211-76-3

978-1-928211-76-1

EAN : 9781928211761 br.

Classification décimale Dewey : 355.009 6

Note sur les bibliographies et les index : Notes bibliographiques

Résumé ou extrait : Présentation de l'éditeur : "This book is intended as a guide and textbook for African soldiers and scholars who wish to understand the development of hostilities, strategy, operational design, doctrine and tactics. It also illustrates the importance of nonpartisanship and the mission and role of the armed forces. Officers, NCOs and their subordinates need to, furthermore, understand their role in defending and protecting the government and the people they serve. They additionally need to know how to successfully accomplish their numerous missions with aggression, audacity, boldness, speed and surprise. The book provides the reader with valuable information relating to conventional and unconventional maneuver. It also discusses how African armies can, with structured and balanced forces, achieve strategic, operational and tactical success. It covers the role of government along with operations related to war, operations other than war and intelligence operations and how these operations, operating in a coordinated and unified manner, can secure and strengthen a government. Composite Warfare draws on the author's experiences and lessons in Central, Southern, East, West and North Africa where he has served numerous African governments as a politico-military strategist, division commander, division adviser, battalion commander and special operations commander."

Sujet - Nom commun : Art et science militaires -- Afrique

Guerre

Commandement des troupes

Opérations combinées (science militaire)

Politique et gouvernement -- Afrique -- 1945-1960

Politique et gouvernement -- Afrique -- 1960-....

Histoire militaire -- Afrique