

The battle for Syria

Type de contenu : Texte

Type de médiation : sans médiation

Type de support : Volume

Titre(s) : The battle for Syria : international rivalry in the new Middle East / Christopher Phillips

Auteur(s) : Phillips, Christopher

Publication : New Haven (Conn.) [etc.] : Yale university press

Date de copyright : C 2016

Description matérielle : 1 vol. (xiii-303 p.) : carte, jaquette illustrée en couleur ; 24 cm

ISBN : 978-0-300-21717-9

0-300-21717-X

978-0-300-23461-9

EAN : 9780300234619 br.

9780300217179 rel.

Classification décimale Dewey : 320.956 91

Note sur l'édition et l'histoire bibliographique : Autre tirage : 2018 (br.)

Note sur les bibliographies et les index : Bibliogr. p. [272]-288. Notes bibliogr. Index

Résumé ou extrait : Présentation de l'éditeur : "Most accounts of Syria's brutal, long-lasting civil war focus on a domestic contest that began in 2011 and only later drew foreign nations into the escalating violence. Christopher Phillips argues instead that the international dimension was never secondary but that Syria's war was, from the very start, profoundly influenced by regional factors, particularly the vacuum created by a perceived decline of U.S. power in the Middle East. This precipitated a new regional order in which six external protagonists--the United States, Russia, Iran, Saudi Arabia, Turkey, and Qatar--have violently competed for influence, with Syria a key battleground. Drawing on a plethora of original interviews, Phillips constructs a new narrative of Syria's war. Without absolving the brutal Bashar al-Assad regime, the author untangles the key external factors which explain the acceleration and endurance of the conflict, including the West's strategy against ISIS. He concludes with some insights on Syria and the region's future."

Sujet - Nom commun : Relations internationales -- 2001-....

Sujet - Nom géographique : Syrie -- 2011-.... (Guerre civile)