

Anatomy of failure

Type de contenu : Texte

Type de médiation : sans médiation

Type de support : Volume

Titre(s) : Anatomy of failure : why America loses every war it starts / Harlan K. Ullman

Auteur(s) : Ullman, Harlan K.

Publication : Annapolis (Md.) : Naval institut press

Date de copyright : C 2017

Description matérielle : 1 vol. (VIII-258 pages) ; 24 cm

ISBN : 978-1-68247-225-5
1-68247-225-6

EAN : 9781682472255 rel.

Autre variante du titre : [Why America loses every war it starts.]

Classification décimale Dewey : 355.033 073

Note sur les bibliographies et les index : Bibliographie page 243. Index

Note sur le contenu : A simple truth shaped by moments of war An analytical view of why we fail John Fitzgerald Kennedy, the USSR, and the path to Vietnam Lyndon Baines Johnson and the Vietnam catastrophe, Richard Milhous Nixon, and James Earl Carter Ronald Wilson Reagan: evil empires and Star Wars George Herbert Walker Bush: Panama, Desert Storm, the end of the Soviet Union, Europe whole and free, and the unintended consequences of "the New World Order" William Jefferson Clinton, the bottom-up force, Black Hawk down, NATO expansion, Yugoslavia, and the rise of al Qaeda George Walker Bush and the Global War on Terror, Afghanistan, Iraq, and Russia Barack Hussein Obama: Afghanistan, Pakistan, Iraq Libya, Iran, Syria, and the pivot East, and the first days of Donald John Trump as president How to win: history counts The way forward: a brains-based approach to sound strategic thinking

Résumé ou extrait : Présentation de l'éditeur : ""In Anatomy of Failure, Harlan Ullman asserts that presidents and administrations have consistently failed to use sound strategic thinking and lacked sufficient understanding of the circumstances prior to deciding whether or not to employ force. He analyses the records of presidents from John F. Kennedy to Barack Obama and Donald Trump in using force or starting wars. His recommended solutions begin with a "brains-based" approach to sound strategic thinking to address one of the major causes of failure--the inexperience of too many of the nation's commanders-in-chief. Ullman reinforces his argument through the use of autobiographical vignettes that in some cases making public previously unknown history."

Sujet - Nom commun : Sécurité nationale -- États-Unis -- Prise de décision

Présidents -- États-Unis -- Histoire -- Études de cas

Militarisme -- États-Unis -- Études de cas

Défaite -- Études de cas

Stratégie

Politique militaire -- États-Unis

Histoire militaire -- États-Unis -- Études de cas